Back to School, back to brilliance

The vacation was amazing, but getting ready to meet friends and teachers is more exciting. The little bundle of joy, our young Dipsites of Grades I and II came all geared up with energetic smiles to meet their friends and get entangled again in amusing activities. The corridors and classrooms were all brightened up by their alluring presence after a long time. We at DPS, GBN, readily and wholeheartedly welcomed our munchkins with a plethora of activities. Lively photo sessions, engrossing storytelling sessions, interesting games, and doing a welcome back craft made them overjoyed with happiness. Students of Grade I made a 'welcome back bag' and decorated it. To add to their excitement and make the activity more joyous, teachers surprised them by keeping chocolates in their crafted bags, whereas students of Grade II made a welcome back card and embellished it with their creativity. It was really a thriving experience for our young learners as well as their teachers as they meet and bonded after a long summer break. Meeting their friends and sharing their holiday experiences with their cute narration ability gave a wholesome happiness to the teachers also, making it a memorable one. Too young to express their happiness in words, their jovial faces says it all....that they really loved this welcome which was filled with fun and frolic activities.

Language tango

"If you talk to a man in a language he understands, that goes to his head. If you talk to him in his language, that goes to his heart." -Nelson Mandela

Communication is a core competent of any society and language is an important aspect of it. In order to know the roots of our language, our little munchkins of Grades I and II celebrated a special week in the month of July, 2023. The week started with the theme "Know your Origin", where our young scholars wrote a Sanskrit shloka and were explained the connotation of it by their teachers. The shloka simply conveyed the importance of education, as it makes one not only knowledgeable but also humble and humane. They were also taught that Sanskrit is the mother of so many native languages and has a vast cultural history. In continuation with this theme, on the second day our kiddos came fantastically groomed in their traditional attire and spoke a few lines in their native languages, which represented their native roots in the best way. Their performances took all of us to the whole tour of India's varied ethical values, customs, belief systems, and heritage. The special week ended with the "State Exhibition" where culture, food, costumes, models of monuments, etc. of different states were displayed by the children, which helped them to learn that India is the land of unity in diversity. Our junior learners zealously participated in all the activities and were proud to belong to a country with such a rich heritage and cultural diversity.

Live life, love fitness

"Some people want it to happen, some wish it would happen, others make it happen." -Michael Jordan

Work education is based on the philosophy of learning by doing. It allows the child to step forward in innovative education, helping him develop skills like critical thinking, problem-solving, and decision making. At DPS, GBN work education is an integral part of the curriculum as we ensure that each child learns from their own experience. Keeping the same in mind, the WE theme for the month of July, 2023 was "Fitbits", the idea was to induce children to be physically fit. Health and fitness play a key role in gaining holistic development for our students. Children did different activities each week which made them understand the importance of staying fit and healthy. They energetically participated in mass PT, wherein they did different exercises on the beats of drum, which helped them to increase muscular strength, endurance, and motor fitness. Our young fitness lovers happily danced their hearts out during the extremely fascinating 'Zumba' session. It was great to see the magnificent enthusiasm of our learners as they grooved along with their teachers on lively music beats. The icing on the cake was the 'Corn salad making' activity, in which the teacher explained the procedure step by step and the little chefs followed. The kids were beaming with joy as their corn salad looked so colourful, loaded with veggies and garnished with their favourite cheese. They relished it along with their peers as it was healthy as well as very tasty. Children had a lot of fun during the whole month as it was an amalgamation of fitness with exciting and innovative activities.

Be a Recycler, be a Saver

"A society is defined not only by what it creates, but by what it refuses to destroy."

- John Sawhill

The Sustainable Development Goals are essential for life. As part of DPS, GBN's efforts to promote sustainable living and meet Sustainable Development Goal - 13 'Climate Action' and Sustainable Development Goal - 12 'Responsible Consumption and Production', young environmentalists of Grades I and II participated in a variety of activities. Students in Grade I participated in the 'TED Talk' - Solution to Pollution, where they shared their views on reducing pollution and keeping nature clean. The objective of the activity was also to imbibe a true spirit of learning in students and make better orators so that they can fearlessly express their views on any given topic. All the students exhibited great spirit in delivering their thoughts with confidence. There was a lot of innovation in the ideas that were shared. Grade II students participated in an event 'Trashion-Trash plus fashion'. The show celebrated creative fashion design and promoted waste reduction and sustainability. Using trash in their outfits in a creative way was a way for children to express themselves. In this way, they spread the message of recycling by accessorizing fashion objects made from waste. The enthusiasm of participants proved that waste isn't waste until we waste it.
